tary, stricture to society of female, loss of memory and sexual power, and resulting mortality. IMPOWERS, are positively curable.

DOCTOR HUNTER publishes a Medical Pamphlet relating to venereal diseases and the disastrous and varied consequences of self-abuse, that will be sent to any address in a sealed envelope for two stamps. It contains full symptom lists that will enable those affected to determine the nature of their disease.

It is the power of the mind which drives an individual to despair, to hasten, to die, in which he is so much helped to do his bidding.

It is well-known that a physician who gives a written statement of their case will know almost as well for the purpose of treatment as a personal interview but where it is concerned, the Doctor should be consulted personally.

It is self-evident that a physician who consults himself exclusively in the study of a certain class of disease, and treats thousands of cases every day, may acquire greater skill in that specialty than one in general practice. Many physicians, recognizing this fact, introduce patients to the Doctor after reading his medical papers.

THE ELECTRICAL BABY.

Astounding Phenomena in France.

"We are not surprised to learn that there will be given to the Imperial Academy of Medicine of Paris an elaborate and intelligent communication by Dr. C. de Lirona, who, with two others, went to St. Petersburg, and the scientific satisfaction of witnessing the dying agonies for the child is unnamably dead, of the poor little sufferer.

"It would seem that the last moments of the electrical infant presented some truly astonishing phenomena. For nearly two weeks be-

There is no doubt that the electrical lights manifested themselves with a vividness that confounded the scientific men, who 'only saw fire,' according to the not very respectful language of our correspondent.

"No one could occupy the space around the cradle, he says, and the shocks were

"The infant expired without the least pain or convulsion, sweetly, in perfect repose, and as if it sank to sleep; while the furniture and occupants of the room were seized with an indescribable agitation."

"At the last moment the emanations of light from the body of the dying child became three times more intense than they had ever been seen before, and lasted for several minutes after death. All who were present, I do not except the physicians, went away deeply

"It is not known, at least to the public, of what disease the child died. Dr. C— will perhaps tell us in his paper.

"The scientific men, of course, desired to take away the body for examination. But the relations were violently opposed to this, and the interment took place in the burial ground with the usual rites and ceremonies.

"For instance, the body of the woe-fetful child was cut off close to the head and divided among the relatives and friends. It will remain

"I should not be surprised, says our correspondent in conclusion, if the scamps of the neighborhood should make it a subject of speculation.

of February, 1959, and died on the 24th of November, having lived nine months. Science is not told us, if it can, the meaning of this electrical phenomenon.¹⁷

THE BATTLE OF SOMERSET.

Another Account of the Affair.
(To the Editor of the Courier-Journal.)

SOMERSET, Dec. 3, 1869.

From accounts published in some of the public journals of the country, giving a description of the fight which occurred at Somerset, Pulaski county, Ky., on Saturday, the 20th of November, 1860, those firing at a distance from the scene of action, and knowing nothing of the circumstances attending it, would be led to the conclusion that the ple here were a set of savages, and that the people reign of terror exists. Such, however, is not the fact. We have visited many towns and counties throughout the State, have been here for more than a month; have mingled freely with the people both in a social and business point of view, and can truthfully say that we have not found anywhere a more hospitable, peaceable, intelligent, orderly people, than at Somerset and vicinity.

We have nothing to say in regard to the parties personally engaged in the row. The cost of the row is $100,000.

but this does not justify the branding of a whole community for the sins of a few. There are bad people everywhere and in every community, and just such a row as occurred on the 26th is, under similar circumstances, liable to occur at any time and place, especially

The parties engaged in it reside some twelve or fifteen miles out west from Somerset, and is the same neighborhood. The difficulty is a personal one of long standing. It is an old case which time has not only failed to heal, but by a process of irritation has caused fresh ulcers to break out. The issuing of sundry warrants, first by one and then by another, brought the parties and their witnesses together before the Police Judges of Somerset on the day above named. For some trial was postponed until the following Wednesday, and, had it not been for "king alcohol," the day, so doubt, would have passed off quietly. The row commenced about 3 o'clock P. M. Its duration about thirty minutes, in which some fifty shots were fired, wounding four men, two of whom, it is believed, were seriously injured.

The good people of Somerset and vicinity held a meeting at the court-house on last Tuesday evening, to devise measures to put a stop to law difficulty and prevent a recurrence of the tragic scene. A committee was appointed to draft new rules expressive of their indignation at, and their determination to bring down, late and all such proceedings.

They were unanimously adopted

It may be well to state that the Wednesday's trial did not come off. The County Attorney, in consultation with the Police Judge and the counsel for the defendants, deemed it best in order to prevent a riot.

to dismiss the warrants and notify the parties that they are not to attend. This was done, and perfect peace and quietness reigned.
